What are Abiraterone Acetate Tablets?

Abiraterone Acetate Tablets are used with steroid medicine (prednisone or methylprednisolone) to treat prostate cancer that has progressed to other parts of the body. It is prescribed for men who are unable to treat their prostate cancer with surgeries or other medications. Abiraterone acts by inhibiting the production of androgen in the body. Androgens are man hormones that can encourage prostate gland tumour growth.

How Does It Work?

Abiraterone Acetate Tablets are a cancer-fighting drug. It works by suppressing the generation of androgen (male hormone) in men. This is accomplished by blocking CYP17, an enzyme involved in the synthesis of androgen. This is how prostate cancer progresses and is slowed.
